

CTAUN

Committee on Teaching
About the United Nations

Webinar Registration

Facebook Twitter LinkedIn Microsoft \(Outlook\)

Topic

MULTILINGUALISM - The New Global Competence Standard: Mother Language + 2

Description

The Sustainable Development Goals include the importance of global citizenship education (SDG 4, Target 7), a process enhanced by the acquisition of languages other than one's own. That acquisition also serves a key element in CTAUN's mission "to incorporate global awareness into curricula and school activities at all levels." Join us to celebrate International Mother Language Day, and hear from speakers (both teachers and learners) how learning multiple languages has changed their understanding of world issues, focused their education and careers, and has empowered their support of the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs.).

Time

Feb 21, 2022 11:00 AM in Eastern Time \(US and Canada\)

*"Language is the road map of a culture. It tells you where its people come from and where they are going."
Rita Mae Brown*

We hope you will join us for this special CTAUN webinar on Monday, 21 February 2022 in celebration of International Mother Language Day.

This webinar will discuss the celebration of mother languages as an integral part of multilingualism.

The full program can now be found on our website on the CONFERENCE page..

Image credit: UNESCO

Our experts, both teachers and learners, come from different parts of the world and between them speak more than a dozen languages.

You will hear from:

Mark Woodworth Harris, President Emeritus, Berlitz and ELS Language Services; Creator and co-founder "Many Languages, One World"

Dr Kathleen Stein-Smith, Author, Professor of French

Alexey Tsykarev, Expert and Vice-Chair, UN Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues

Arbre Agullo Guerra, Expert in Catala

Elisa Capobianco, Sara Jeffar and Gugulethu Jemaine, multi-lingual alumni of Many Languages, One World

Ramu Damodaran will moderate the Q&A Session

Come join us on February 21. There is no charge for this event, but registration is required.

REGISTER HERE

www.teachun.org